

The background image is a coastal landscape. In the foreground, there is a grassy slope with several yellow wildflowers. Beyond this, a rocky beach leads to the ocean. The waves are white and foamy, crashing against the shore. In the distance, a green hillside is visible under a cloudy, grey sky.

Integrated primary and community care for people living with dementia mate wareware and their families & whānau

Photographs: Justin Nijdam, Lewis & Harris, Scotland

-
- The background of the slide is a scenic landscape. In the foreground, there is a small, dark stone building with a chimney, possibly a lighthouse or a small house, situated on a grassy hill. To the right of the building, there is a body of water, likely a lake or a wide river, which reflects the sky. In the background, there are rolling hills and mountains under a cloudy sky. The overall tone of the image is serene and natural.
1. Gain more clarity about what Aotearoa NZ needs to achieve to have “integrated primary and community care” for people affected by dementia mate wareware
  2. Share local examples of how this is already working
  3. Inspire each other to foster progress in your own places of work

Ngaire Kerse & Matthew Croucher

Alister Roberts on QSM & Sisa Talataina

Discussion

From your own experience,

What would you like to see in terms of improved integration of primary and community care for people affected by dementia made aware?

Examples of improved integration

Lindsay Webber, Western Bay of Plenty PHO

Emma Fromings, Tū Ora | Compass Health PHO
(Kapiti Coast)

Deb Gillon, Pegasus PHO (Waitaha | Canterbury)

Jane Large & Victoria Newcombe, Te Waipounamu Collaboration (South Island)

Discussion

In respect of somewhere you have some influence, What do you think might be worth aiming for in terms of improving the integration of primary care and community services for people affected by dementia made aware?

Choose someone to share a key idea or two with the wider group

Integrated primary and community care for people living with dementia mate wareware and their families & whānau

